

FCSA

You're in good company.

You're in good company when you join FCSA

The trade association for the UK's professional employment services sector

In recent years, the professional employment services sector has experienced:

- Increased attack from the government and trade unions
- Public and political backlash sparked by negative headlines
- Significant threat to the future of the umbrella model

FCSA is fighting to protect your industry. We're making a real difference by engaging with recruitment companies, end-hirers, government and the media.

Join FCSA today and together we can achieve more.

Benefits of membership

FCSA exists to support your business, further your cause, engage with government, and promote your positive role in supporting the flexible workforce to deliver competitive advantage to the UK economy.

As an FCSA Accredited Member or Associate Member, the commercial benefits for your business include:

- A monthly market analysis report
- Fortnightly members newsletter
- Access to expert technical knowledge and advice
- Government influence at the highest level
- Networking opportunities with your fellow industry professionals

For more information about membership, contact us on:
0203 772 8622 | info@fcsa.org.uk | www.fcsa.org.uk

FCSA

You're in good company.

About us

The Freelancer and Contractor Services Association (FCSA) is the leading trade association representing the UK's umbrella companies and contractor accountancy services providers. FCSA remain committed to raising the standard of the UK's professional employment services sector.

Associate Members and Accredited Members adhere to our Charter which outlines minimum standards and requires businesses to operate legally. In addition, FCSA Accredited Members have been audited to confirm that they adhere to the FCSA Compliance Code – this stringent test of their business operations is a clear commercial differentiator.

As the industry-leading trade association, the FCSA works to support and protect the interests of the sector and the flexible workforce.

Why join FCSA?

- We provide exceptional support to our members.
- We strongly promote the value of our sector.
- We have a proven track record.
- We have an experienced and highly skilled team.
- We are influential with government and policymakers.
- We are ethical with a reputation for compliance.
- We are a not-for-profit organisation.
- Our CEO is independent and appointed by FCSA members.

With membership starting at just £1,500, can you afford not to join?

For more information about membership, contact us on:
0203 772 8622 | info@fcsa.org.uk | www.fcsa.org.uk