

FCSA Code of Compliance

Umbrella Questions & Worker Addendum Questions

FCSA is dedicated to raising standards and promoting supply chain compliance for the temporary labour market. A key way we do that is to publish our Charter and Codes. We do this so that all industry stakeholders and, importantly, all the workers who use our Members' services can be assured that FCSA Members are fully compliant with the laws and regulations surrounding employment rights, personal taxation and corporate compliance with the off-payroll rules. All FCSA Members undertake to abide by our Charter and Codes as a condition of their membership and are contractually obliged to maintain these high standards throughout their membership.

Our Codes, which sometimes go above and beyond what is lawfully required, are formulated by FCSA working closely with independent experts in these areas and changes are reviewed prior to publication by a wide variety of industry stakeholders and official bodies. The Codes cover complex issues and that is why our they are constantly under review and are updated as often as is required to keep them relevant and reflective of not only the regulations but also industry best practice. We believe our Codes set the highest standards of compliance and are industry-leading in their comprehensive scope. Members are assessed against FCSA's Codes not by in-house staff or inexperienced evaluators but by a panel of fully independent and nationally renowned professional services firms, lawyers and accountants, with an authoritative level of expertise in these specialist areas. This assessment for FCSA accreditation is rigorous and stringent and, as a result, it is recognised as the industry's compliance gold standard.

I'd like to thank you for taking the time to read our Charter and Codes.

SECTION A

In many ways the onboarding process sets the scene for the provider's relationship with their employee, that's why FCSA stipulates what needs to be done up front and maintained during the employment.

Chief Executive, FCSA

SECTION A: TAKE ON PROCEDURES

A1.

Do you supply potential new employees with an introduction letter or email which contains the following?

- a. An explanation as to the basis on which your business operates, i.e., as an employer providing its employees with work;
- b. That the worker is an employee of the umbrella employer and is aware of their statutory rights;
- c. That the worker will be subject to a proof of identity check;
- d. The worker will be required to enter into employment related agreements such as an overarching employment contract;
- e. The basis upon which the employee can claim expenses is explained.

FCSA require a copy of introduction letter or email. FCSA also require you to provide cross referencing to where the above are included within the introduction letter or email.

A2.

Confirm a financial illustration is provided, or made available, to all prospective employees. All illustrations must comply with A3 a-j.

A3.

Confirm that your financial illustration provided to every potential employee:

- j. Clearly shows that the illustration is based on providing a weekly, monthly and/or annual estimate.
Estimates should clearly show any additional tax liability arising within the illustration, where the annualised taxable pay would exceed £100,000, as a result of the personal allowance tapering by £1 for every £2 in excess of £100,000 (or £0 where in excess of £125,140, or as amended from time to time), based on the information available and assumptions used at the time.
- k. Where an online calculator is provided, it should clearly state that it is an estimate and all assumptions used must also be clearly listed and consistent with all code A3 requirements. In addition, where expenses are included, this should not as a default position, but input by the contractor directly (subject to the standard SDC checks).
- l. If it is known at onboarding that the contractor wishes to salary sacrifice, any employment costs saved and retained by the Member must be clearly displayed.

FCSA requires a copy of a template financial illustration based on the following assignment rate examples:

£562.50 a week (£15ph x37.5hours), £961.54 a week (£50,000pa), £1442.31 a week (£75,000pa), £10,000 a month (£120,000pa)

Please be aware that if financial illustrations are inaccurate, misleading or are deemed to be used for competitive advantage, it may jeopardise future FCSA membership.

A4.

A5.

Optional Remuneration Arrangements rules:

FCSA require you to list and describe how the above have been considered and also list any other arrangements you have in place and provide details

- f. Do you check that the worker is subject to SDC via a questionnaire with the worker and clarification from the end client?
- g. If yes to f.) do you also confirm that the assignment will not exceed 24 months, it does not exceed the '40%' rule, it is for a temporary purpose and the employee has an intention to continue contracting?
- h. Do you sacrifice salary to reimburse expenses to employees?
- i. If yes to h.) are these limited only to authorised mileage claims?
- j. Does your contract split income into NMW + discretionary bonus / additional pay or equivalent?

If yes to j.) above, FCSA require you to evidence how you communicate a discretionary bonus/additional pay element to employees, including supporting narrative of your process and evidence.

AMAPS: <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/how-to-tax-mileage-payments-for-employees-480-chapter-16>

If yes to k.) above, FCSA require you to confirm how you communicate this to employees, including an explanation for how and why you do this for each employment package this applies to.

- l. Confirm that where a salary sacrifice arrangement is in place, your organisation calculates the employment costs after consideration of the salary sacrificed value each pay period and therefore the worker's taxable/NICable pay is reduced commensurately. All RTI returns to HMRC should also reflect the same values as the payslip. Any employment cost savings (including but not limited to apprenticeship levy and employer's NI) retained by an FCSA Member must be clearly displayed on the payslip/reconciliation page as appropriate.

A6.

Confirm your marketing literature, web pages, scripts and training material all support the employment model and make no references to the employee being a client, to fixed expenses being acceptable, to them being able to earn 'free weeks', 'margin free weeks' or reduced charges to them. Where you offer different models which require a different margin, these are properly explained to potential employees and do not make reference of different levels of service or charges for products unless those charges are deducted from net pay and VAT accounted for as required. Where variable margins are allowed, please confirm that this is properly explained to the individual, the individual is clear as to what is included with the higher margin and that they have a choice as to which offering and the associated margin they wish to go with.

FCSA require you to attach copies of ALL current promotional and/or marketing material and provide your website URL..

If you provide an illustration with your marketing material it needs to state:

FCSA require appropriate employment documentation, this should include cross referencing to where the above are included within the respective employment documentation (referencing to the appropriate clauses).

A9.

Confirm that your contract clearly states that any accrued entitlement for holiday must be taken within the holiday year, as stated within the employment contract, and any accrued but untaken holiday will be paid in lieu at termination of the contract, whichever occurs first.

FCSA require evidence which includes cross referencing to where the above is included within the respective employment documentation.

A10.

- a. Workers and employees in the UK are entitled to a statutory minimum of 5.6 weeks' paid holiday per year (28 days for someone who works 5 days a week). This is primarily driven by a concern for a worker's health & safety/wellbeing and as such FCSA requires members, as responsible employers, to regularly encourage all employees to take holidays to which they are entitled, e.g. reminders on payslips and/or reconciliation statements, please confirm you operate this way.
- b. Confirm that you have a clear and prominent explanation of holiday entitlement and holiday year on pre-contract documentation and within the employment contract.
- c. Confirm that regularly throughout the holiday year and when an employee is approaching the holiday year end (at least eight weeks prior), you remind your employees to use any remaining holiday entitlement by means of clear and prominent communication such as email, SMS, reminder notes on payslips and/or reconciliation statements or other prominent means which do not require proactivity on the part of the employee. These reminders should include informing the employee that any unused annual leave and any holiday pay balance may be lost.
- d. Confirm that you make reasonable effort to ensure that employees receive their full holiday entitlement each holiday year, including any entitlement accrued whilst on statutory leave. If an employee's employment terminates part-way through a holiday year and they have not taken their full accrued holiday entitlement, they must be paid in lieu of their outstanding entitlement on termination of their employment. FCSA permit the carry-over of unused holiday entitlement under regulation 13A(7) WTR (or a more generous carry over if specified in the contract of employment with your employee).
- e. Confirm that where a carry-over of holiday entitlement into the following year has occurred, that on termination, any accrued entitlement (including all carry-over from a previous year) will be paid in lieu.
- f. Any exceptions to these requirements must be logged internally with a clear explanation of why the exception arose, and this log kept available for FCSA to inspect. Exceptional reasons can include but are not limited to death, unable to trace the worker by reasonable effort, the worker's refusal to accept.

FCSA require you to provide process details and evidence of pre-contract communication, employment contract, payslip, email, letter, portal, reconciliation statement etc.

For clarity FCSA understands the difficulties in this area caused by the Working Time Regulations, however FCSA does not hold the view that the "use it or lose it" principle is a desirable outcome of the legislation.

A11.

Please provide copies of the following documentation:

- a. Sample assignment schedule;
- b. Employee handbook;
- c. Policy on Working time directive (unless included in the employment contract);

FCSA require copies of the above as required. Such documentation should be readily available/accessible to employees.

A12.

Do you reimburse expenses to employees on the basis that they are not subject to, (or to the right of) supervision, direction or control?

A13.

If you do reimburse expenses to employees on the basis that they are not subject to, (or to the right of) supervision, direction or control, do you have processes in place to review and document this, which includes:

- a. An initial sifting process based on umbrella rate of pay and job role in line with latest FCSA best practice (see self-employed code in relation to job roles and rates of pay)?
- b. Documented evidence received from the end client prior to the start of the role to state that SDC (or the right thereof) does not exist and to confirm that that worker/role or any other worker performing the same role has not already been assessed as inside IR35 or they are not aware of any assessment.

In respect of b. above:

A Service Provider must get written clarification which confirms if the employee is not subject to SDC from the end client. The person confirming this status must have authorisation to do so. This written clarification can be obtained from the end-client via the agency if required.

A Service Provider must also cross reference all employment documentation including the Contract of Employment and the Assignment Schedule to ensure the employee is not subject to SDC. On its own, a worker just saying that they are not subject to SDC is not acceptable. FCSA require you to provide an overview/confirmation of your process with regard to the above.

- c. Use of a document (to be undertaken each time you are advised that a new assignment is in place) to evidence the findings of discussions with appropriate and authorised persons at the agency, end client and worker surrounding SDC specifically covering the following areas:
 - ▶ Can the worker decide how the work is done?
 - ▶ Can the worker be told what to do (as to the manner)?
 - ▶ Can the worker be moved depending on priorities?
 - ▶ Can the worker decide when the work is done?
- d. A documented conclusion as to whether there is SDC (or the right thereof) and evidence of sign off/review?
- e. A full re-review carried out at least once every 6-month period for all workers who have been actively working for you for 6 months continually on the same assignment and/or on every new assignment and that this full re-review complies with all points listed in section c.) above?
- f. Evidence of an internal audit process where sample checks are performed regularly by persons not responsible for the initial SDC decisions. All internal audits should be documented for subsequent external audit review?
- g. Are there any financial incentives based on SDC 'pass rates' for umbrella staff that complete the assessments of SDC.

If you employ workers who are not subject to, (or to the right of) supervision, direction or control and as a consequence you reimburse expenses to those employees for their journeys from home to temporary workplaces, FCSA require you to provide a copy of your policy describing how you review and document whether or not they are subject to, (or to the right of) supervision, direction or control.

FCSA also require you to provide a copy of your standard documents evidencing your review of whether an employee is or is not subject to, (or to the right of) supervision, direction or control.

A14.

- a. If you reimburse any expenses to employees, do you have processes to ensure that the correct contractual terms appropriate to the employee's circumstances are issued and that they are referred to the relevant sections of the expenses policy, e.g., whether they are subject to supervision direction or control, (or the right thereof), vs. expenses still claimable via their tax return, etc.
- b. Confirm you do not offer and are no longer operating a fixed expense pot arrangement for workers

FCSA require a copy of any standard contractual terms issued to employee's regarding expense claims that reflect their circumstances. From the 1st October 2022, FCSA Members must not onboard new employees into a fixed expenses model, and must not offer or advertise a fixed expenses model. FCSA members who currently offer or provide Fixed Expenses are required to wind down those operations by 1st October 2023.

A15.

Do you have a process or any standard documents to deal with the following:

- a. You seek to ascertain the employees work status when the employee is not on assignment, e.g.
 - ▶ Taking annual leave;
 - ▶ Unavailable to work through sickness, maternity, paternity, adoption or shared parental leave;
 - ▶ Available for and seeking work.
- b. Separately to issuing of a P45, you confirm in writing the employees last day of employment in accordance with their contractual notice periods or any agreed waiver (or payment in lieu of notice) of the same if a shorter notice is agreed.
- c. You confirm you pay any outstanding financial holiday entitlement where the employment ends, as part of the final payment.
- d. Where holiday pay is accrued, you confirm that you supply the employee with access and visibility to their accrued holiday pay summary
- e. Where holiday pay is accrued, you confirm that you supply the employee with a summary detailing the accrued entitlement before paying the balance at termination of their employment.
- f. If employment has already been terminated, you confirm that you provide a separate payment for all outstanding financial holiday entitlement

FCSA require you to provide supporting evidence in respect of the above and cross reference where appropriate.

A16.

- a. Do your employees receive a statutory payslip?
- b. Do your employee payslips meet the regulatory requirements introduced from April 2019 for them to include "where the amount of wages or salary varies by reference to time worked, the total number of hours workers in respect of the variable amount of wages or salary either as:
 - i. a single aggregate figure, or
 - ii. separate figures for different types of work or different rates of pay."

- c. Confirm that your reconciliation statement clearly shows:
 - Company receipts;
 - Company costs (including but not limited to; margin, employment costs with separate line for employers NI/ apprenticeship levy & employers pension, and any employer savings retained by the member on ErNIC or AL due to salary sacrifice/private pension);
 - Holiday Pay (amount accrued/retained);
 - PAYE ref (if on a separate sheet/page from general section).
- d. Confirm that your payslip clearly shows:
 - Gross payment;
 - Hours/days worked (for each different type of work or rate of pay);
 - Holiday pay (applicable when paid out);
 - Taxable pay;
 - Niable pay;
 - Employee deductions (including any variable and/or fixed deductions from the gross amount stating the description of the deduction);
 - Net Pay;
 - Expenses;
 - Year to date figures (including Taxable pay, Niable pay, Tax & NI deductions).
- e. Confirm that this General (shown on the payslip and/or reconciliation statement if separate pages) information is shown:
 - Company name & PAYE reference;
 - Employee details (name, address, NINO, employee number);
 - Pay date & pay period/s;
 - Holiday pay (Amount brought forward & Amount taken).

FCSA require a copy of a template statutory payslip.

A17.

Confirm the pay reconciliation you provide to the employee transparently show an itemised breakdown of all employer costs, including but not limited to the Apprenticeship Levy.

A18.

Confirm the payslip or portal provided to employees displays the accrued holiday entitlement balance or if 'advanced' the amount is clearly visible on the payslip.

FCSA require a small sample of payslips and any reconciliation documents, or other document made available. If the accrued holiday balance is not provided on the payslip, provide template document issued to employee to advise them of the accrued balance.

A19.

Do you have processes to support employees find suitable work at the end of their assignment?

FCSA require a copy of your policy explaining what steps you take to help facilitate employees to find suitable work at the end of their assignment.

An example of reasonable behaviour is to refer the employee to the Jobs Board or back to their agency.

A20.

Does the termination of an assignment automatically lead to the termination of employment?

FCSA require a copy of your policy in relation to the termination of an assignment.

SECTION B

In the following section, FCSA outline their requirements for Members when making PAYE payments to Contractors.

Deborah Murphy
Head of Operations, FCSA

SECTION B: PAYMENTS

B1.

Do you offer payments to or for the benefit of employees other than as employment income?

B2.

Are all payments made to employees working even partly in the UK subject to PAYE/NIC as required, e.g., under the Offshore Intermediary legislation?

B3.

Are any transactions, funds or payments, or any part thereof, made or held outside the UK?

B4.

Do you have a policy that all payments to employees are made into UK based bank accounts except in exceptional circumstances?

B5.

Are dividends paid to the employees?

B6.

Are any payments (save for authorised expenses and HMRC approved salary sacrifice payments such as childcare vouchers) made to employees free of tax and NIC?

B7.

Is the statutory minimum wage always paid per hour to employees against signed timesheets irrespective of any other factors?

B8.

Do you limit the payment of outstanding expenses if the employee's minimum statutory wage will be affected?

B9.

Do you exclude the following payments made by workers from National Minimum Wage (NMW)/ National Living Wage (NLW) calculations where required contractually or set out within an Employee Handbook:

- a. Payments that shouldn't be included for the employer's own use or benefit, i.e., if the employer has paid for travel to work;
- b. Items the worker has bought for the assignment and is not refunded for, i.e., tools, uniform, safety equipment;
- c. tips, service charges and cover charges;
- d. extra pay for working unsocial hours on a shift.

B10.

Is holiday pay at or above the minimum statutory level of days and calculated on the full taxable gross pay each pay period?

FCSA require evidence that you have an appropriate process for the calculation and payment of holiday pay. FCSA also require you to provide a small sample of payslips (both accrued and advanced as applicable).

B11.

Is your holiday pay calculation set out within the employee's employment contract?

B12.

Do you provide for the accrual of holiday during periods of maternity, paternity, adoption, shared parental leave (or other family leave) and sickness absence?

Note: Holiday pay should be calculated based on the average of the worker's total remuneration (gross pay) in the previous 52 weeks. Any weeks in which no remuneration is payable by the employer have to be ignored and earlier weeks must be brought into the calculation. The FCSA's view (in line with DBT guidance) is that statutory payments such as SSP do not count as "remuneration", so any weeks in which statutory payments are paid should be ignored and earlier weeks must be brought into the calculation. The umbrella company should fund this holiday pay as the employer.

FCSA require you to provide evidence that you have an appropriate process in place to accrue and then pay out the holiday balance. Including the process for advising the employee what they have accrued and their total balance. Please also provide a small sample of payslips/reconciliation statements evidencing that there is holiday accrued, whilst on a period of family leave or sickness absence.

B13.

Do you allow for 'advanced' holiday pay? If so, please explain.

B14.

If you do 'advance' holiday pay, is this shown as a separate item on the payslip?

FCSA require supporting evidence of request, payment made and also transparency of process and calculation in the contract i.e., weekly payslips alongside cross referenced section of Contract of Employment

If the default position is accrued and 'advanced' holiday pay is allowed, the employee must give explicit instruction to evidence their request. You should also remind the employee of the need to take time off work in line with the Working Time Regulation.

B15.

Do you allow eligible employees who have completed the 12-week qualifying period:

- a. to take paid time off to attend their own ante natal appointments
- b. to take time off (which does not have to be paid) to accompany a pregnant woman to an ante natal appointment

Note: this is in accordance with the statutory requirements

B16.

If an agency does not pay you for any reason when you have signed timesheets or completed electronic/timesheet portal equivalent, are your employees entitled to receive at least NMW on their normal pay day?

B17.

Do you operate and pay all statutory payments (e.g., SSP, SMP, SPP, PP, etc.) during and between assignments?

FCSA require supporting evidence, i.e., small sample of payslips where operated in the last 3 months and associated assignment schedules to show if on assignment or not.

B19.

Do you allow Payroll Giving? If so, please explain your process

FCSA require you to provide your comparator pay calculation supporting the above.

F6.

Do you advise the agency when the contract rate for the assignment is unacceptable?

Where the assignment rate does not match the pay comparator, FCSA require you to outline the procedures you follow with the employee and recruitment agency (or provide your process).

F7.

Do you recalculate matching permanent pay rates as per AWR where non-chargeable expenses have been paid to the worker?

F8.

Confirm you do not offer and are no longer operating Regulation 10 'pay between assignments' (Swedish Derogation) method?

SECTIONS G-J

Expenses and VAT, and how they're handled, are a complex issue and FCSA's requirements in this area are designed to ease both the clarity of process and the roles of both the provider and their employees.

ADDENDUM

Worker Questions

Section L onwards

The FCSA recognises that, in addition to employment, there are other ways Members may wish to compliantly provide the services of the workers they engage with, and to this end, in addition to the FCSA's codes of compliance for Umbrella / PEO, we have developed our codes to allow the use of a Contract for Service.

Given that our members recognise that the reimbursement of non-billable expenses is now far less frequent, the FCSA recognise that the usefulness to members of mutuality or relationship between assignments is reduced.

Members may therefore wish to use a contract for service to engage the worker that allows for a simpler contract to be presented.

Under a contract for service each assignment operates as a separate period of engagement with no obligation on either party to offer further assignments.

The worker's main workplace will be regarded as their permanent place of work. Travel and subsistence expense claims to/from the permanent workplace should not be accepted. This is the case regardless of whether the worker is subject to (or the right of) supervision, direction or control (SDC) in the manner they perform their duties.

The below code outlines our expectation of how this model can be delivered and operated compliantly.

SECTION I

In many ways the onboarding process sets the scene for the provider's relationship with their worker, that's why FCSA stipulates what needs to be done up front and maintained during the assignment.

Chris Bryce
Chief Executive, FCSA
